

Incident Investigation

This 4-hour long in-person or scheduled online workshop examines what to do after an incident at work to ensure something similar doesn't happen again. Examine the theory behind incident investigation and then walk through the steps of the investigation process under the guidance of an instructor. By the end of the course, you will view incidents through a new lens, and you'll have important knowledge and skills to help make your workplace safer, no matter what your role in the investigation process.
